1. The 39th Infantry "Graziani" Regiment, Army Unit No. 4949, has its headquarters at Bratislava and the following known officers:
 - a. Commanding Officer Col. Leopold Vosatko, a Slovak. He joined the regular army during the "Slovakian State" and participated in the 1944 Slovakian insurrection in the Cergov area. In September 1944 he abandoned his unit and reported to Major Paxon; the latter was rounding up Slovak soldiers as well as German officers who had taken part in the insurrection. Vosatko has been a party member since 1945, when he was assigned to the Ministry of National Defense Personnel Section. In 1948 he was transferred to the 4th Headquarters Military District. He took over the 39th Infantry Regiment after Col. Markytan, the Commanding Officer, was purged from the Czech Army. Vosatko is a coward and a careerist with no political education.
 - b. Chief of Staff Major Micek, a Slovak, age 40.
 - c. Education Officer 1st Lt. Hlavacka, a Slovak, age 30. An active party member and a dangerous informer.
2. The regiment has two battalions:
 - a. 1st Battalion, with headquarters at Bratislava.
 - b. 2nd Battalion, at Pezinok.
3. The 1st Battalion has the following companies at Bratislava:
 - a. 65th Company of 82 mm mortars and 45 mm antitank guns. It is commanded by 1st Lt. Adolf Bucek, a Czech, age 30, and its strength consists of mortar crews of 30 men and gun crews of 35 men. It has the following equipment:
